

Arch Point Consultants Pvt. Ltd.: Shaping the Built Environment Through Vision, Science, and Design Intelligence

With over two decades of sustained excellence in the built environment, Arch Point Consultants Pvt. Ltd. has emerged as one of India's most respected multidisciplinary architecture and design consultancies. Known for its ability to seamlessly integrate aesthetics, performance, and long-term value, the firm has consistently delivered projects that respond intelligently to both human needs and urban contexts. Its work spans a wide spectrum of sectors—hospitality, high-end residential, commercial developments, industrial facilities, and large-scale high-rise buildings—positioning Arch Point as a versatile and future-ready practice with a strong national footprint and growing international relevance.

The firm's pioneering approach has been widely acknowledged through numerous prestigious accolades. Arch Point has been honored with awards in Quantum Architecture, the Indian Iconic Award, the Asia Leadership Award, along with several other national and industry recognitions celebrating design excellence, innovation, and professional leadership. These awards are not merely markers of success, but affirmations of the firm's commitment to pushing boundaries and redefining architectural thinking. Each recognition reflects Arch Point's ability to translate complex philosophies into built realities that perform, endure, and inspire.

Founded by architects Amit Khandelwal and Poonam Jain, Arch Point is guided by a leadership vision grounded in deep professional expertise, strategic foresight, and ethical practice. The founders bring complementary strengths to the firm—combining technical rigor, design sensitivity, and an understanding of evolving market and societal needs. Under their leadership, Arch Point has grown into a comprehensive consulting practice offering Architecture, Interior Design, and Project Management Consultancy (PMC) services. This integrated model allows the firm to deliver seamless, end-to-end solutions, ensuring design intent is preserved from concept development through execution and handover.

A defining aspect of Arch Point's practice is its commitment to Quantum Architecture, a philosophy that goes beyond conventional design frameworks. By integrating principles of science, energy alignment, sustainability, and design intelligence, the firm creates environments that are deeply human-centric and performance-driven. This approach recognizes buildings as living systems—spaces that influence well-being, productivity, and emotional experience. Whether designing a luxury hospitality project or a complex industrial facility, Arch Point aligns spatial planning, material choices, orientation, and energy flow to create balanced, efficient, and future-ready environments.

The firm's strength is further reinforced by a robust team of over 100 skilled professionals, including architects, designers, engineers, and project managers, who collaborate across disciplines to deliver complex projects with precision. Strategic national and international collaborations have enabled Arch Point to work across geographies, absorb global best practices, and respond effectively to diverse regulatory and cultural contexts. This collaborative ecosystem allows the firm to scale intelligently while maintaining design quality and executional discipline.

In an era where architecture is increasingly called upon to address sustainability, resilience, and human well-being, Arch Point Consultants Pvt. Ltd. stands out as a practice that combines vision with responsibility. Its projects are not defined by a singular stylistic language, but by clarity of intent, contextual responsiveness, and long-term relevance. As the firm continues to expand its footprint and evolve its design philosophies, Arch Point remains firmly anchored in its core belief: that architecture, when guided by intelligence, integrity, and innovation, has the power to positively transform both people and places.
